Decorate a woman's vanity or powder room with this vintage elegant ceramic Bohemian sculpture dish, crafted in the Czech Republic circa 1930. The Art Deco sculpture features a woman statue in a green gilt dress, resting on the edge of a shell form basin, filling up her amphora water jug. The carved dish composition is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, with a rich patinated finish with gilt accents. Place this decorative porcelain dish on your entry commode to store keys or collect loose change! Stamped on the bottom Royal Dux for further authentication, see detailed images. Royal Dux is the more common name for the Duxer Porzellanmanufaktur, which was founded by E. Eichler in DUX, Bohemia (now Duchov, Czech Republic), in 1860. By the turn of the century, the firm specialized in porcelain statuary and busts of Art Nouveau-style maidens, large porcelain figures, and ornate vases with three-dimensional figures climbing on the sides. Before 1938, the company had over 12,000 molds for porcelain. The firm is still in business. It is now part of Czesky Porcelan (Czech porcelain). Measures: 9.25" W x 7" D x 9.25" H.
