Incorporate extra, functional surface space into your living room or den with this elegant antique side table. Crafted in the Perigord region of France circa 1920, and built of oak wood, the small side table stands on turned legs ending with bun feet, embellished with an intricate bottom stretcher. The Louis XIII end table features a single drawer across the front dressed an iron pull knob. The top embellished with rounded edges and cut corners around the perimeter, has a nice surface size to hold a lamp, glass or book. The occasional side table is in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, and adorns a rich walnut patina. Versatile, the table could also be used as a nightstand or a bedside table. Measures: 21.5" W x 21.5" D x 23.5" H.
