Decorate a living room or den with this elegant antique side two tier table. Crafted in France, circa 1920 and oval in shape with bombe sides, each table stands on cabriole legs embellished with brass mounts at the shoulder, and ending with brass sabots over feet. The bombe scalloped apron is embellished with gilt bronze mounts on all four sides. The table features a serpentine shape surface decorated with a parquetry and marquetry floral inlaid top, and is embellished with a brass gallery band around the edges. The end table is further adorned with a second bottom shelf and is decorated with a brass gallery band. The Louis XV style occasional tables are in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, and adorn a rich walnut patina and dressed with decorative bright gilt ormolu mounts throughout. 21.75"W x 14"D x 28.75"H
