Decorate a wall with this elegant ceramic fountain on board from the south of France. Crafted in Desvres circa 1920, the decorative two-piece set is complete with, reservoir with bronze spout, and lid; the lavabo is attached to a carved corner mounting walnut board. The reservoir decorated with hand-painted floral motifs, scrolling acanthus leaves, and lush foliate in vibrant hues of blue, yellow, pink, and green. The fountain is in excellent condition with rich colors, and would be a charming addition to any room. The reservoir could also be used as a unique flower vase. The wash basin or lavabo was a typical piece found in French homes before running water was available. It consists normally of an ewer or container of some kind to pour water, and a bowl to catch the water as it falls off the hands. became famous all-over the world thanks to its fine glazed earthenware produced in the 17th and 18th centuries. Measures: 11.75" W x 11.75" D x 41.5" H.
