Decorate a wall or a shelf with this colorful antique wall platters. Crafted in France circa 1950, and made of porcelain, these mid-century Limoges style wall plates exemplify the exquisite craftsmanship and artistic detail characteristic of Limoges ceramics. Each plate is carefully hand-painted with serene pastoral scenes, showcasing the idyllic beauty of the countryside. Two plates feature shepherds tending to their flocks by a river, with the natural landscape beautifully rendered in soft, earthy tones. The skies above are dotted with birds, adding a sense of tranquility and movement to the scenes. The other plate captures a solitary man strolling with his dog through a sun-dappled forest, highlighting the peaceful coexistence of man and nature. The plates unique shapes, with softly curved edges and a slight scalloping, enhance their decorative charm, making them stand out as both functional and ornamental pieces. The vibrant yet harmonious color palette, combined with the detailed, narrative scenes, makes these platters a quintessential example of mid-century decorative art. The wall plates are in excellent condition and would add a touch of classic elegance to any space. Wire in the back for easy installation. 11"w 11"H
