Decorate a bedroom with this elegant pair of antique bedside tables. Crafted in France circa 1920, and built with mahogany wood, each cabinet stands on tapered legs over a straight apron. The bedside table features three drawers across the front decorated with polychrome inlay fillet in contrasting finish, and dressed with decorative brass knobs. The drawers are further upholstered with Fleur-de-Lys motifs paper, and would create the perfect amount of storage space in a bedroom. The surface is dressed with a rectangular inlaid top, and the sides have recessed panels. The Louis XVI style nightstands are in excellent condition commensurate with age and use, and adorn a rich walnut patina with fine and delicate marquetry accents. Measure: 18.75" W x 13.5" D x 27.75" H.
