Catch loose change or other odds and ends with this pair of 19th century decorative tazza dishes. Crafted in France circa 1880, each compote sits on a square green marble base with repoussé brass band at the bottom. The ornate vide-poche stands on a square pedestal over a round bronze urn decorated with intricate repoussé vine and grape motifs, and dressed with vine and leaf handles. Both footed base with cup holder pieces are in excellent condition and adorn a rich patinated bronze finish. Measures: 6.75" Diameter 9.25" H
