This colorful two-piece antique Majolica cheese dome was crafted in France, circa 1980. The piece includes a bottom circular platter decorated with stripe motifs, and the lid shaped as a dome features a double-tree branch top handle, and is decorated with floral and leaf motifs in high relief over weave embellishments around the perimeter of the dome. The barbotine ceramic cheese dish is in excellent condition with soft colors in the pale blue and brown palette with white and green flowers and leaves. Marking on the underside for further authentication. Measures: 10.75 diameter 13" height.
